"On behalf of Wanda Vazquez, and I we'd like to extend our gratitude to the IWS team for an incredible destination conference! The entire staff was warm and welcoming, and the itinerary was exciting and engaging! This yearly event fosters unity and relationship amongst all credit union members, which only makes the credit union community stronger. This is all from the IWS efforts. Appreciate your partnership and look forward to a lifetime relationship!"

The Top Achievers Conference

IWS hosts an annual conference to recognize the Top Achievers of our credit union partners who meet predetermined production levels. This is a reward, recognition and learning experience coordinated by IWS with the express intent to join top-producing employees from across the nation to attend specialized sales training conferences and share personal experiences with colleagues from their own industry. The conference consists of multiple events hosted by IWS while being held in an exciting and entertaining location. IWS pays for airfare and lodging for all qualified attendees as an added bonus.

Planning Your TAC Travel

The following are frequently asked questions and general information regarding TAC. Please contact the IWS Marketing Coordinator for additional information or questions.

I want to bring a Guest to TAC. What does that look like?

IWS encourages you to bring a plus one, however, we do not pay for any plus one expenses. Additional charges are as follows:

- There is the option to invite them to our events for an additional fee to cover their food and beverage. The fee is assessed every year.
- Hotel rooms are covered by IWS, however, we do pair up credit union employees from the same credit union and same gender attendees. You can request your own room or buy out the room if you have a guest attending. This cost is assessed based off room pricing and group rate.

When should I expect to hear from the Travel Agent?

Our chosen Third-Party Travel Agent will reach out to you directly once your registration form has been filled out and the Travel Agent receives your information. The IWS Marketing Coordinator sends the registration information to the travel agent on a weekly basis.

All TAC Attendees travel must be coordinated by the IWS Travel Agent.

The travel agent books all TAC attendee flights and coordinates all billing directly with IWS' to book approved attendee flights. IWS does not reimburse attendees for travel booked outside of this process.

What about my guest's flight?

Attendee guest flights can be purchased at the same time as attendee flights and the attendees credit card will be requested for the guest flight.
